2 Level 2 of 3 · Personal Care

Hands-on help, with their dignity always first.

When bathing, dressing or getting up from a chair has become hard or risky, a caregiver helps with the parts they can't do safely and lets them keep doing the rest.

WHAT'S INCLUDED

Personal Care doesn't replace Wellness Care. It adds to it.

LEVEL 1 · INCLUDED

All of Wellness Care

- Company and conversation
- Meal planning and cooking
- Light housekeeping and laundry
- Groceries, errands and rides
- Medication reminders and routines
- Outings and staying active

LEVEL 2 · ADDED

Plus hands-on personal care

- Bathing, showering and hygiene
- Dressing, grooming and toileting
- Help with walking and mobility
- Safe transfers, like bed to chair
- Help with meals and eating
- Incontinence care

WHY IT MATTERS

The riskiest moments of the day are the most private ones.

Getting in and out of the shower, up from the toilet, or out of bed are where many falls happen. A steady hand at those moments can be the difference between staying home and a hospital stay.

1 in 4
adults 65 and older fall each year. Falls are the leading cause of injury at that age

1 in 2
bathroom injuries in people 85 and older happen on or near the toilet

Most
hip fractures in older adults are caused by falls

3 in 4
adults 50 and older want to stay in their own home as they age

HOW WE DO IT

Done with them, not to them.

Needing help with a shower is hard for anyone. The way the help is given matters as much as the help itself.

They lead

Their routine, their choices

Morning or evening shower, which outfit, how they like their hair. We follow their way.

They do what they can Help only where it's needed

If they can button the shirt, they button the shirt. Doing for themselves keeps strength up.

Privacy, always

Covered, doors closed, no rush

We keep them covered, explain each step first, and never hurry the most personal parts of the day.

Safe moves

Transfers, walking, the bathroom

Help to stand, turn and sit safely, using the walker, shower chair or grab bars they have.

A familiar face

The same caregivers when we can

Trust is what makes personal care feel normal. We try hard to send the same people.

Small changes noticed

A note after every visit

A red spot on the skin, eating less, a new wobble. Someone who helps every day sees it.

A REAL VISIT

What a morning can look like.

One example for a dad who uses a walker.

- 7:30 Good morning. Help sitting up and getting out of bed safely.
- 7:45 A warm shower on the shower chair, with help washing his back and feet.
- 8:15 Dressed in the shirt he picked, hair combed, ready for the day.
- 8:45 Breakfast together and a reminder for his morning medicine.
- 9:30 Fresh sheets, a load of laundry, and the kitchen cleaned up.
- 10:30 A walk down the block with his walker, or cards if it's raining.
- 11:30 Lunch made and ready, and a short note about how the morning went.

SIGNS IT MAY BE TIME

You might be noticing:

- Fewer showers, or the same clothes several days in a row
- A fall or a close call in the bathroom or getting out of bed
- Holding onto furniture to get across the room
- Trouble with buttons, shoes or reaching the feet
- Embarrassing accidents they try to hide
- A family member worn out from lifting and bathing

Seeing one or two of these is a good reason for a free in-home assessment. We'll tell you honestly whether Wellness Care is enough or Personal Care is the better fit.

$32 /hour

Includes everything in Wellness Care. A minimum of 4 hours per visit and 8 hours per week. Non-medical care: caregivers give medication reminders but don't give medicine, change dressings or do nursing tasks.

Book a free in-home assessment

We come to the home, meet your loved one, and tell you honestly which level fits. No cost and no obligation.
